Graduation Exercises Are Postponed

The graduation exercises which have always been held at the close of the school year at Mountain View Bible School, have had to be postponed this year as the school has been quarantined on account of measles. Only one case developed and as the closing of the school was only a few days away it was decided to close at once and the pupils have departed for their various homes.

The graduation exercises will be held during Camp Meeting Week early in July.

Local Players Will Present Comedy-Drama

The 3-act comedy-drama, "Eye of Love," which is being presented by the Knox United Dramatic Society at the Opera House this Friday evening, March 27, promises to be a play well worth seeing. These local players have been rehearsing faithfully for the past few weeks and are now ready to put on a first-class production. There are both pathos and laughter in the play and those who attend are sure to enjoy it.

We understand the society has been invited to present the play in neighboring towns.

Following is the cast:

Mrs. Barry..... Mrs. D. Edwards
Judge Barry..... Al Thomas
Gaylia, their adopted daughter..... Dorothy Ranton
Royal Manton, Gaylia's lover..... Ward Wymau
Reita, a treacherous cousin..... Elsie Goertz
Burt, Gaylia's unfavored suitor..... John Goertz
Carolina, negro mammy..... Ruth Johnston
Lora, pert housemaid..... Mrs. W. McCoy
Clarke, the butler (a detective)..... Jim Halton
Trusty Jim, the man of mystery..... Dave Jenkins

The School Orchestra, under direction of Mr. C. R. Ford, will play selections before and between acts.

Admission: Adults 35c., Children 20c., Family Ticket $1.00.

Sharp's Shows will Celebrate Anniversary

During the week of April 13 to 18 the Sharp Shows will celebrate the twelfth anniversary of their coming to Didsbury, and during that week there will be six special shows, the titles of which will be announced later.

For the past 12 years the motion picture entertainment at the Opera House has been supplied by W. H. B. Sharp. During this time there have been many changes in equipment, as when taken over the theatre equipment comprised but one machine with the old inconvenience of cutting at the end of each reel. The second machine to make continuous pictures possible was installed shortly after Mr. Sharp had taken over the business.

With the advent of sound Mr. Sharp was one of the first to install sound equipment in any of the smaller towns in Alberta, and the first machines were of the disc type, but they were soon superseded by the sound-track equipment, and improvements have been made from time to time to keep up to-date.

For the anniversary week there will be an advance sale of tickets, and those who buy tickets in advance will have a chance on a Consol Model General Electric Radio, which is being given away.

The radio will be on display at Chambers' drug store this weekend.

Didsbury Breeders at Calgary Show

R. A. Macfarlane, A. Robertson & Son, A. M. Robertson, with Herefords, and E. O. Wait & Son with Shorthorns, were the only Didsbury breeders to enter stock in the Calgary bull sale this year.

The entries from Didsbury were smaller this year than for many years, the breeders having been successful in disposing of most of their stock privately. At very satisfactory prices many of the bulls purchased privately were sold to United States buyers.

Obituary.

CATHERINE HUNSPERGER.

The death of Mrs. Catherine Hunsperger, widow of the late William Hunsperger, at the age of 87 years, on Saturday, March 21, 1936, saw the passing of one of the oldest residents, also one of the first settlers of the district, she having come to Didsbury in 1895 when the country was bald prairie.

Catherine Schluchter was born on May 14, 1848 at Pine Hill, Ontario. She was married to William Hunsperger in 1868 at Manheim, Ontario. In 1870 they moved to Michigan, where she lived until 1895, when she came to Didsbury to join her husband and sons, who had come here the year previous. They homesteaded one mile southwest of town, where she lived with her family until the death of her husband fourteen years ago, and since that time had lived quietly in town.

She was a member of the Evangelical Church since girlhood and took an active part when the Evangelical Church was first organized in Didsbury.

Deceased leaves to mourn her loss: three sons, Allen, Abner and Alvin, all of Didsbury, and two daughters, Mrs. E. Sherick, of Didsbury, and Mrs. Mack Ryckman, of Chilliwack, B. C. Twenty grandchildren and fourteen great-grandchildren survive, also four sisters and one brother who live in the east.

The funeral was held at the Evangelical Church on Monday and all her children were present. Rev. H. J. Wood conducted the service, assisted by Rev. C. J. Hallman.

Those who attended from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Dave Witwer, Gordon and Vera, of Three Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Witwer, of Acme; Mr. and Mrs. Jake Witwer, Floyd and Myrtle, of Calgary; Mrs. Mary Witwer, Calgary; Mr. George Cloakley and Miss Gillies, Calgary; Mrs. Ray Havens, Crossfield, and Messrs. Bruce and Jim Hunter, of Beaver Dam.

The pallbearers were six grandsons: Nyle and Lynn Hunsperger; Verdo, Russel, Gordon and Arnold Sherick.

There was a large number of floral tributes which were sent by: Hon. R. B. Bennett, M.P., Mr. and Mrs. Dave Witwer; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Witwer; the Otto Family, Carstairs; the Evangelical Ladies Aid; Mrs. Smith and Lucille; Mrs. Thaler and Edna; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hursh, Carstairs; Mr. and Mrs. E. Gasser, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Tuggle, Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith, and the family.

Government Breaks With Douglas

With patience exhausted following weeks of negotiations, often carrying with it the necessity of eating humble pie, the caucus of Social Credit members of the legislature Monday night decided to definitely and irrevocably terminate their association with their principal reconstruction adviser, Major Clifford H. Douglas.

"The government will be reluctantly forced to cable Major Douglas expressing to him that the ultimatum in his cable has precluded the possibility of further negotiations," Premier William Aberhart declared following the caucus.

Curling Notes.

Two Didsbury rinks visited Olds on Tuesday to meet two Olds rinks in a friendly game. Honors were even, each club winning a game.

Alex McNaughton's rink beat Warren Kemp's by a score of 11-7, while Brusso's rink met defeat at the hands of Walter Gooder 13-10.

The Didsbury rinks were: McNaughton, skip; Caithness, Ross and Topley.

Brusso, skip; Reiber, Adshand and Bill McCoy.

Knox United Church Notes.

In response to the appeal of Premier Aberhart, we extend a most cordial invitation to all to attend church next Sunday, March 29. The service will be at 7.30 p.m. and the theme of the sermon: "Vision and Life." This is an important topic and one that challenges the utmost in Christian Citizenship. In connection with this service Lantern Slides of the United Missions in Honan, China will be shown. There will also be a service at Westcott in the morning at 11 a.m., weather and roads permitting.

Evangelical Church Notes

Next Sunday morning the pastor will continue his series of sermons on the Sins That Crucified Jesus, with "Peter and the Sin of Cowardice." In the evening a representative of the M.B.C. Conference will bring the message.

Will Develop Tar Sand Deposits

Development of the tar-sand deposits at Fort McMurray in northern Alberta will begin immediately, according to an announcement made at Ottawa on Monday night by the Alberta minister of lands and mines, Hon. C. C. Ross.

He said arrangements had been made by a private company to spend $1,500,000 in the next two years in erecting a plant at Fort McMurray to extract petroleum and other by-products from the tar-sands. The company is being financed by American capital.

Offices Cannot Be Held With Tax Arrears.

Alberta residents who have tax arrears to make up will not be enabled to hold office in the municipality in which the taxes are owed, it was decided by the legislature sitting in committee of the whole assembly on Monday in discussing an amending bill to the Municipal Districts Act, sponsored by Hon. Charles Cockroft, provincial treasurer and minister of municipal affairs.

A similar amendment was struck out of the Town and Village Act.

Postponed Operetta to be held Friday April 3

The Didsbury Public School Operetta which was postponed on account of the closing of the school will be held on Friday April 3.

Prorogation This Week.

Warning that night sittings may start Monday for the first time this session was given by Premier Aberhart just before the House rose Friday for its week-end adjournment. The House is expected to prorogue during the latter part of this week, after having been in session since February 6.

The principal legislation to be dealt with is the bill to amend the School Act, making provision for larger rural district units. This had received its second reading and was taken up in detail early this week in the committee of the whole.

A Pot Of Gold?

It is said that people learn by experience. True, undoubtedly, but one wonders sometimes just how much experience is needed for some people to learn some lessons.

In illustration one might cite the well established axiom that "there is no royal road to wealth." Experience, reaching back for centuries has amply proved the truth of this assertion but the lessons of the past do not appear to be very deeply engraved on a good many human minds, or if the truth of the statement is admitted and recognized, it is quite frequently ignored or blindly waived aside.

Why is it that so many people are easy to convince, against all the laws of sound economics, in defiance of recorded history and experience, in opposition to their own inherent common sense, that there is a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow to be had merely for the gathering?

Why is it that people of fair education, people who are well read, people who usually apply good sense in the pursuit of their daily avocations and even demonstrate shrewd ability in ordinary business transactions, fall an easy prey to the lure of financial fakirs, confidence tricksters and unscrupulous sharks?

There can be only one answer to these questions and that is that people of ordinary intelligence and acumen who succumb to the wiles of the tricky financial gangster and invest hard earned savings in wild projects and doubtful schemes have permitted blind, unreasoning hope to supplant judgment and common sense. In other words, the desire to get something for nothing or to acquire a lot from a little is allowed to over-ride good sense. The inevitable result of such lapse is disastrous speculation in schemes in which every card is stacked against the player.

And once the victim has allowed himself to be lured into the net by promises of huge returns and great rewards it is astonishing how reluctant he is to admit even to himself that he has been ensnared even after the truth is revealed in unpleasant starkness. The net in which he is caught is made of golden meshes and rather than credit anything else he is ready to believe the most impossible stories and back up his faith by sending good money after bad until he is ultimately strangled.

A remarkable illustration of the operation of this psychological trait was recently unfolded in the expose of the "Drake estate" frauds in the Chicago courts when it was revealed that 70,000 residents of mid-western States had contributed a total of $1,350,000 to a group who represented they held claims to the Sir Francis Drake estate, consisting of incredible wealth in Great Britain plus title to debts owing the estate in 68 countries of the world with compound interest which had been piling up for 300 years. It was represented that those who would contribute funds to enable the group to settle up the estate would reap a thousandfold on their investment.

Even after the ringleader was sentenced to a ten-year term in jail money continued to roll in to his agents who collected on a commission basis to further their alleged efforts to "collect the estate", evidence in the trial of 41 of these collectors revealed.

Wild stories were told at campaign meetings and, judging from the resultant flow of money, believed. Prospects were told that all the silver and gold in the world really belonged to the estate, which was why the United States began calling in both and why England departed from the gold standard, that when Roosevelt was reported on a fishing trip he was actually in England settling the estate and that the ring leader was not in jail but was waiting to release a secret understanding with the Bank of England, which would start the golden flood pouring across the prairies. One of the prospects is reported to have written the Bank of England, and, when told the Drake estate had been settled long ago, "repeated his plaintive query, 'What steps do I take to get my money?'"

It reads like a fairy tale, but it is opportune to point out that for this one scheme which received a great deal of publicity, there are hundreds of others to which the unsuspecting public is invited to subscribe, about which not much is heard.

Such appeals are invariably launched on the well-founded assumption that there are still plenty of people gullible enough to part with their money if the bait is made sufficiently glittering in the form of handsome returns at short notice.

Those who are tempted by such blandishments would do well to hesitate before taking the plunge into dubious waters and particularly to be wary of glittering promises of speedy and handsome dividends. Money is not made that way, except by the few who are out to "take the suckers for a ride."

For the average man or woman there is just one reasonably safe way to ensure a competence for old age and that is by the slow and painful route of hard work, thrift and investment of savings in sound securities, remembering that the sounder the security, the smaller will be the returns. Such method requires courage, persistence, self-denial, endurance and intelligence, but it is the only rational way, for there is no royal road to riches.

Numbers had sex in ancient lore. The odd numbers were masculine and the even ones feminine, with the odd numbers having the greater power.

One gratifying accompaniment of religious disputes in Germany is that the Prussian Bible Society sold last year nearly twice as many Bibles as in previous years.

Smoke Drift Of London

Reports Would Indicate It Travels For Long Distance

That smoke originating in England is being observed in other parts of Europe was reported at the annual conference of the National Smoke Abatement Society in Bristol, England, by Dr. A. G. Ruston of Leeds University. "Smoke from industrial England has been observed," he said, "as far west as Valentia Island, on the West coast of Ireland; the smoke drift of London is frequently seen by air pilots over the Channel and Northern France; a soot fringe on the edge of Coniston Water—derived from Lancashire and the West Riding of Yorkshire—has been photographed; and it has been alleged that the sheep on the Isle of Man turn darker in color when an east wind blows across from Lancashire."

Robot Narrowly Missed Killing Its Tutor With Gun

A new trick that he was adding to his mechanical man's repertoire at the Pacific International Exposition in San Diego, California, almost cost the life of Henry C. May, inventor.

May was trying to teach the robot to shoot a revolver. The mechanical man learned more quickly than he anticipated, and shot him in the head. He will recover.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Gift For Noted Pianist

Watch Made Especially For Paderewski Has No Duplicate

Paderewski, the great pianist, is to be presented with a watch which he will know is his. It has just been completed in Warsaw. The time-piece has the hours represented by the letters I. J. Paderewski, a piano keyboard representing the minutes. The hour hand is in the form of a pen, the minute hand like a conductor's baton, the second dial marked with the name of the district in which Paderewski was born, and round the dial are the notes of 12 Paderewski compositions. It is said to keep perfect time.

Feel Tired? Backache?

FOR young girls growing into womanhood, for women in middle life going through the "change," or those who suffer from headache, weakening drains, backache and nervousness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is just the vegetable tonic needed. Mrs. Robert Bryant of 11 Glenville Ave., Brantford, Ont., said: "What wonderful medicine Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is for weak, run-down women, or at least it proved so in my case. I felt tired and weary and had such pains across my back and in my sides. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription soon restored me to good health. I feel fine, as only a healthy person can."

Russia's Communal Kitchens

Preparation Of Food Is Done Entirely By Machinery

Twenty-one million Russians are being fed to-day from communal kitchens. Last year they consumed ten billion dishes. During the past six years the number of persons served from such kitchens has increased by 20 times; and the service is still growing. One kitchen now in course of construction will be capable of preparing 450,000 dishes a day. The preparation of food in these organizations has become so highly mechanized that the food is not touched by human hands during the whole process.

Birthplace Of King

Was Richmond Park And Not Sandringham As Sometimes Stated

Several writers, mentioning the birthplace of the King, have stated that he first saw the light of day in York Lodge, on the Sandringham Estate. Actually he was born at White Lodge, Richmond Park, then the home of his parents, the Duke and Duchess of York, the Glasgow Herald points out. A few days after his christening the household moved to York Lodge, which was later the birthplace of his brothers and sisters.

An Unusual Sale

Railway In New Brunswick Brought $100,000 At Auction

The Tobique Valley railway, running 26 miles from Perth Junction to Plaster Rock, was sold for $100,000 to S. Ronald Jones and E. B. Harley, Saint John, at a public auction, unique in Canada's history.

In 1897, the year of its completion, the railway was leased to the Canadian Pacific railway for 99 years, and rental from the C.P.R. will be the only source of revenue for the purchasers for the next 60 years.

Good Seed Is Available In Spite Of Conditions Which Affected Growth Last Year

Supplies for the seeding of field crops for 1936 must necessarily be derived largely from 1935 seed crops. The year 1935 was unique as regards conditions affecting the growth and maturity of all kinds of seed crops. Early frost together with adverse climatic conditions over a wide area of the Dominion did heavy damage in Western Canada, and one of the worst epidemics of black stem rust seriously affected grain crops of a large section of Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

To make specific reference to cereal crops, it may be said that in no part of Canada was the oat crop of normal quality. In Western Canada damage to this crop from frost was more severe and covered wider areas than for some years. This applied particularly to the northern parts of all three Prairie Provinces or those districts from which seed supply for the southern parts of these provinces, as well as other parts of Canada, is usually drawn.

The provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan are the principal production sources of barley in Western Canada. Here this crop suffered from rust and excessive rain at harvest time. The seed is therefore light in weight and of poor colour. Barley and oats crops throughout Eastern Canada gave great promise during the early part of the growing season. Unfavorable weather conditions at filling time, however, so affected these crops throughout large parts of the district that the quality of the seed from the standpoint of kernel weight or body of sample is the lowest in some years.

Referring to forage crops, timothy seed was of first importance in 1935 as regards yield, but the quality was somewhat impaired through loss of colour and excessive hulling, the result of rain at harvest time and over-ripening. Red clover seed production resulted in two distinct qualities of seed, the late crop, which constituted the bulk of the production, being of lower than average quality because of interrupted maturity by frost. Alsike seed was of very small volume and much below average quality. Alfalfa seed production in 1935 was of negligible proportions. Sweet clover more nearly maintained average quality than that of any other forage crop. However, it must not be inferred that an acute seed situation exists. Much good seed is available, but the usual supply of sound, plump, vital seed of cereals especially was not produced in 1935.

Newsy Makes Good

Thirteen-Year-Old Winnipeg Boy Singing In Eastern Night Club

"Chicklets", the 13-year-old newsy who regaled travellers last summer on the train from Winnipeg to Grand Beach by singing a song with every sale of peanuts or candy, is hitting the big time. The little curly-haired lad who looks like Freddie Bartholomew is stealing the audiences' hearts away with his singing in a Montreal night club.

"Chicklets" left Winnipeg in the fall, and for nearly two months he has been acclaimed as the diminutive headliner in the night club's floor show. Besides his singing he takes part in the dance routine with the chorus.

"Sure, it's better than singing on the train and selling peanuts, but all those Winnipeg people were sure good to me," he said when a reporter recognized him. "I hope to get to New York eventually."

Privately Owned Property

Sandringham, which will probably be the Queen's country home for her life, is as much a privately owned estate as Balmoral, says the News of the World. The nation does not contribute a penny towards its upkeep. Eight villages lie within its borders which cover over 15,000 acres.

Special express trains for fruit, flowers and cauliflower have been placed on railways in Britain.

Lord Tweedsmuir's Opinion

If Given Working Chance Women Will Make Good

Ever since Boer war days Lord Tweedsmuir has been "a staunch believer in the abilities of women in every walk of life in which they are given anything like a chance."

Speaking in Toronto at the opening of the new Women's College hospital, the governor-general told how he was put in charge of the concentration camps in South Africa into which the Boer women and children were collected from the areas devastated by war.

"Two things I learned which I have never forgotten. One was the unassessable value of the hard and self-sacrificing work of doctors and nurses, for we turned these camps in six months from a Lazar house into a health resort. The other was the unassessable value of women's work, for it was the Ladies' Commission, under Dame Millicent Fawcett, which enabled us to turn the tide." The Great War gave a final proof of the value of women's services.

Not A Modern Product

England Had Hit-And-Run Driver Hundred Years Ago

The hit-and-run driver is not a modern product brought about by fast cars which enable the culprit to get away. Here is an extract from a London, England, newspaper of January 1836, which speaks for itself:

"My attention has just been drawn to a report in your journal of an accident in the New Road, caused by the negligence or furious driving of a hack-cabriolet, and accompanied by loss of life. The driver is stated to have hurried on immediately, with the characteristic brutality of the class to which he belongs, and to have succeeded in making his escape without even the discovery of his number."

Probably there have been hit-and-run drivers ever since the days when man first invented wheels for transportation instead of hauling wagons along on runners.

The Prince Of Wales

History Shows That The Country Has Been Without A Prince Of Wales For Long Intervals

It is no new thing for this country to be without a Prince of Wales. There was a gap of 21 years between the death of George III, and the birth of the late King Edward in 1841. A shorter interval occurred between the accession of George III, in 1760 and the birth of his son two years later. But the longest hiatus ended with the change of dynasty in 1714, when George I. created his son Prince of Wales ten days after landing. There seems to have been no Prince of Wales since Charles I. came to the throne 89 years before; for there seems to be no record of Charles II. having borne the title. The new hiatus maybe a long one, for the next heirs to the Throne are a brother and his two daughters.—London Observer.

The Secret Of Living

Is Keeping Clear Of Fads And Avoiding Fuss

Sir James Crichton-Browne, "grand old man" of British medicine, gives this formula for longevity: Steer clear of fads.

"Keep busy. Avoid fuss," said Sir James. "People often ask me the secret of living. It isn't a secret as long as you keep clear of fads."

Sir James, who once dined with Charles Dickens and is to-day still an indefatigable banquet-goer, thinks the younger generation is a little frivolous, but "sound stuff at heart."

May Move In June

The king will probably move from St. James palace to Buckingham palace on June 1, it was understood. The Duke and Duchess of York are expected to move into St. James palace.

Winter At Bird Sanctuary

Over 5,000 Geese Stay At Jack Miner's Until Spring

With evergreen trees planted around the ponds of the Jack Miner Bird Sanctuary to break the severe winter winds, and with plenty of corn scattered over the ice-covered ponds, over 5,000 Canada geese have spent the winter at Jack Miner's Bird Sanctuary. These birds came to this place of safety last October, and will stay until the middle of April, with the spring migrants joining them in March.

On interviewing Jack Miner, he said:

"By our caring for these 5,000 Canada geese all winter, to go North for the spring and summer nesting season, it means they will increase and come back South with 15,000 or 20,000 in the fall—not to the Jack Miner Bird Sanctuary alone; but the over-flow will spread out over Canada and southern U.S.A., and the hunters and bird lovers of the continent will benefit by the increase; while a limited number will return to this sanctuary for feed and protection next fall and winter here. In other words, this place, as long as it stands, will save them from extermination; and individuals and governments will not have to build museums to save specimens, because children and future generations will be able to come here and see them alive. And when a child kindles a love in his or her heart for bird life, that child at once becomes a better citizen and has a greater love for his fellowmen."

Hostess For The King

Four Available If Queen Mary Prefers Not To Act

The Royal Courts which had been fixed for April and June have of course been automatically cancelled. The future brilliance of his court will not in any way be curtailed by the lachlor estate of King Edward. It is hoped that the Queen Mother will continue to preside over the dignities of Buckingham Palace but if she should prefer not to, the King will have able assistance from the Princess Royal, the Duchess of York, the Duchess of Kent and the Duchess of Gloucester, says the Glasgow Herald.

"What did your son learn at college?"

"Well, he can ask for money in such away that it makes it seem a privilege to give it to him."

KNIT THIS SIMPLE SET TO DELIGHT A CHILD

Healthy, happy and oh, so proud of her appearance—this little lassie in her handknit cap and sweater set! It's just the thing to put a four-to-eight year old into the Spring fashion picture along with Mother and Big Sister. Made from a simple Alice Brooks pattern, it works up quick as a flash—the greater part is just plain knitting. You'll want to start it right now, in some bright lovely color—because half the fun is to have it ready for the first play days of Spring!

In pattern Y5512 gives detailed instructions for making both cap and sweater in sizes 4, 6 and 8. It includes an illustration of set and stitches used; and gives material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Anything But Cheap

Motorists In California Pay Plenty For A License

When you are told that license plates for a motor car cost only $3 in California, you think that it is a pretty cheap fee. But there is more to it than that. It is also necessary to pay a registration charge of $1.75 for every $100 valuation of the car.

That $1.75 is the bogey. It makes the total license fee for some of the larger cars exceed fifty dollars annually. That is a heavy sum.

There is a unique way to deal with motorists who are slow in getting their plates. Unless they get under the wire on deadline day, they have to pay double the registration charge and double the fee for licenses, or $6 for the one and $3.50 per $100 valuation for the other.

People in California are kicking strenuously about the high license fees for motor cars. They are also complaining about the high taxes generally. And, many of them realize that still higher taxation is in the offing.

Artist Likes Circus Music and Builds Portable Calliope

George McFadden, Boston and New York artist and scenic designer, has satisfied his boyhood penchant for circus music by building his own portable calliope.

As he explains it: "I took the inside out of an automatic grand piano. I didn't use the player attachment anyway, and I needed the bellows for my calliope. Then I had to reverse the bellows so they would puff instead of pull."

"I was stumped by the pipes for a while, but I finally figured a way out to get them pitched properly. I just took lengths of brass tubing made the slots in them and then kept shoving a cork down in them until I got the right pitch. Then I cut them and closed the end with a brass plug."

"The air supply was a problem. I had to figure out a way to drive the bellows automatically. I finally hooked up an electric motor in the cellar, and that drove it nicely."

Much has been said and written about the wrong numbers given by telephone operators, but this story has to do with the correct ones. According to telephone statistics released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, the number of completed conversations on Canadian telephones during 1934 is estimated at 2,298,507,566, and that is a lot of right numbers. This is an average of 1,925 conversations per telephone, or 212 per capita. No other country has as high an average number of conversations per capita and only the United States and Japan report a greater total number of telephone conversations. Perhaps the reason that Canadians are particularly loquacious over the telephone may be attributed in some measure to the fact that the telephone is a Canadian invention, the world's first telephones having been set up and operated in Canada by Alexander Graham Bell.

The number of telephones in Canada at the close of 1934 amounted to 1,193,729 compared with 1,192,330 in 1933. For each of the years 1931, 1932 and 1933 decreases from the previous year were recorded, and in 1934, while the number of residence telephones continued to decrease, increases in business, rural and public pay telephones were more than sufficient to offset this decrease. With an average of 11.01 telephones per 100 of population, Canada was second only to the United States, where there is an average of 13.29 telephones per 100 of population.

In addition to playing an important part as a medium of communication in the business and social life of the Dominion, the telephone also provided employment to 17,291 persons to whom salaries and wages totalling $21,167,834 were paid during the year.

British Rescue Launch Will Patrol Shark-Infested Timor Sea

To take the dread out of the Timor Sea for flyers, a special high-speed rescue launch has left the Southampton yards to operate in those shark-infested, storm-swept waters in conjunction with empire air routes.

Long regarded as the most dangerous section of the England to Australia air route, the Timor Sea will lose much of its dread.

The launch has a cruising range of 950 miles. She is capable of high speed and can carry, in emergency, 40 or 50 persons.

For officers and crew there is comfortable accommodation, and the control compartment is like the interior of a sedan car—even to its windshield wiper.

Her wireless transmitting and receiving apparatus has a range of 400 miles.

Apart from her important duties in regard to aircraft, the launch will also be used for pearl fishery protection purposes.

Teaching By Radio

Recent Experiment In Australia Was Pronounced A Success

The first experiment in Queensland in broadcasting lessons was carried out recently from a Brisbane school by 4QK and 4RK, the Queensland stations of the Australian Broadcasting Commission.

Schools in the districts served by the broadcasts were previously supplied by the department of public instruction with notes on the lessons, and at each school the broadcasting teacher's instruction was followed on a blackboard.

The broadcasts were made with a view to determining the possibility of reaching scholars in the outback and also to provide teachers with an example of methods of presenting lessons. The experiment was regarded as eminently successful.

The rebate of six cents a gallon on fuel to farmers making purchases for industrial purposes is unchanged under the terms of the bill to amend the Fuel Oil Tax which is now before the legislature.

By a vote of 29 to 22 Hon. Charles Cockcroft, Provincial Treasurer, on Monday won a motion in the legislature to repeal the Wild Lands Tax Act, of which he had given notice in the budget debate. The act is repealed as from January 1 of this year. The repealing bill will come into force on the date upon which assent is given.

Was it a Goose or a Swan?

A photograph of a "large goose" shot by Oscar Hanson of Olds, which appeared in a recent edition of the Calgary Herald, was the principal exhibit at the trial of Hanson Friday in Olds police court.

Producing the picture in court, Sergeant Cawsey, of the R.C.M.P. at Calgary, declared that the "goose" was not a goose but a swan. As a consequence, he alleged, Hanson was guilty under the Canada Game Act of shooting a swan, a protected bird.

In the course of the trial, Professor Rowan of the University of Alberta, an authority on migratory birds, declared the picture was that of a swan and not a goose. On the other hand, Frank Jeannot, Clinton Armstrong and Gordon Bussard, Olds sportsmen, declared it was a picture of a goose.

In view of conflicting evidence and the difficulty of establishing the nature of the bird as it could not be produced in court, Magistrate Peattie dismissed the charge against Hanson.

J. J. Kelly of Olds defended the accused and Sergeant Cawsey prosecuted.

Elkton Notes.

Against effective scenery of rustic work, artificial flowers and gaily colored cushions, the young people of Elkton and district presented the play, "A Spanish Onion," to a packed house at the school Friday night. Miss Vivian Hewitt received many congratulations on her acting of "Delight," the college girl of many dates and engagements. Miss Margaret Anderson was especially good as Mrs. Hollister, wife of the college president. But then, each one acted their own part just as it should be acted. Miss Rothwell as Minnie the bashful, Miss Phyllis Barnard as Cynthia the drab, Miss E. Mann (substituting for Miss M. Schneidermiller) as Jane the steam-roller, and Miss U. Russell as the Irish woman. Messrs. P. Luft, L. Barnard, F. Dobson and F. Kynel were students, with K. Barnard a much-abused first year man and Wilfred Blain as the "Spanish Onion." The latter was probably the hardest part of any to play, but was done so most effectively by the actor. Much credit must be given to Miss Mann, who directed the play, for the clear voices and perfect enunciation of the entire cast. Between acts Arnold Hogg sang "String Along With You" and "Boots and Saddle." Lunch was served, followed by dancing to the music of McCaffin's Orchestra. The sum of $34.60 was taken at the door for the play, while $6.40 was collected at the dance. After expenses are deducted the proceeds go to the Sunday afternoon broadcast of the Prophetic Bible Institute. Tomorrow (Friday) evening the young people plan to take the play to Bergen.

By T. B. WINDROSS

EDMONTON—(Press Gallery)—The Social Credit bill came up for consideration in committee for the whole of Friday and was reported for third reading after an important amendment was added to it on motion by Premier Aberhart. This amendment alters the scope of the bill, or widens its scope, so that the bill as it now stands makes it quite possible for the government to introduce and establish social credit without recourse to the legislature for approval. Perhaps this is the most radical and reactionary feature of the measure. It means that for the first time in history a British self governing province will be clothed with authority to go ahead and establish an entirely new economic order, effecting every phase of public life one way or another, without referring its decisions or actions to the legislative body. In other words it takes the legislative power out of the hands of the legislating body.

It would appear to be the next thing to dictatorship if it doesn't actually give the executive council the powers of a dictator. Opposition speakers pointed out that it was "government by orders in council." On the other hand it is argued by government supporters that the action to be taken by the executive, following a study of the whole social credit proposals, will be what would be supported by the majority in the house in any case, and besides that, this government was elected for the specific purpose of putting social credit into operation in Alberta and is therefore justified in taking the shortest cut to its objective on the mandate of the people.

The government ignored warnings of the opposition that the procedure might result in the act being declared ultra vires of the province and adopted the Aberhart amendment. This amendment gives the cabinet power to "adopt and put into operation any measure designed to facilitate the exchange of goods and services," on a social credit plan. The amendment was challenged on a point of order by L. A. Giroux, Liberal, Grouard, who argued it was bad legislation on two counts, namely, it involved expenditure of money, which was a privilege of the legislature, and that the house had no right to delegate its powers to the executive council. On the government side it was argued that the opposition had claimed the original bill was not legislation because it made no enactment, and the amendment would fulfil that weakness or lack. Premier Aberhart assured the members that the implementation of social credit involved no expenditure of public monies whatever. The plan was based on credit—not money.

The government's Recall measure also went through committee during the week and despite strong opposition from Mr. Speaker's left and amendments to make it more drastic in its operation, the bill was left unchanged to all practical purposes. It was described by the opposition speakers as "futile" and "a farce." D. M. Duggan, G. H. Van Allen, L. A. Giroux and J. J. Bowlen, with G. O'Connor, all dubbing it as a measure designed to prevent members of the legislature being recalled, rather than one to enable constituencies that are dissatisfied with their member having him recalled. The bill now only requires third reading to become law. A highlight in the discussion on this bill was afforded by H. Ingrey, S.C. member from Drumheller, who declared he was sure that every member of the house will resign if social credit promises remain unfulfilled. Mr. O'Connor said, "That's exactly what I want to know, but I want the Premier to say it." Mr. Aberhart ignored the remark.

An interesting time was spent in the public accounts committee when R. J. Magor and J. C. Thompson, retiring provincial auditor, gave evidence. Both these men stated that anything like repudiation of debts by the province would damage the province's credit very seriously. Defaulting would practically close the money markets of the world to Alberta, they both agreed. During Mr. Thompson's examination by members of the committee, he was asked if in all his 12 years' experience as auditor he had found any dishonesty in any cabinet minister or deputy minister. D. M. Duggan asked the question and Mr. Thompson's answer was an emphatic "no." He said further that Alberta had every reason to be proud of the honesty of its civil service. He told the committee the Alberta civil service compared favorably with any other body of its kind in the dominion.

Two important bills are still to come before the house before the session ends, namely, the Education bill of the premier and a new act announced as coming up this week, a bill to provide for compulsory refunding of the province's debt of more than $160,000,000. Giving evidence on this before the public accounts committee J. C. Thompson said it was his opinion that such a measure would "wreck the credit of the province." He also supported R. J. Magor, special financial adviser, in the opinion that participation in the Ottawa proposed loan council would be the best way of refunding the province's debt.

A bill to provide a minimum wage for men was also promised by Hon. E. C. Manning and has received first reading. Tuesday fifteen bills were approved and advanced to third reading by the house. Among these bills ready for enactment is Mr. Manning's bill requiring certificates of proficiency for certain tradesmen, which Mr. Van Allen said was "pure Fascism."

Another cable has been sent to Major C. H. Douglas and the door is still left open for him to come to Alberta and advise the government, but at the time of writing the status of the negotiations has not been made public.

Night sessions begin in the legislature this week in an effort to get the business cleaned up before Friday.

Old Question Revived

Science May Prove There Is Ether In Space

The possibility of real existence of the hypothetical "ether", an invisible medium filling all space, has been revived by some new mathematical calculations presented to the American Physical Society in New York.

W. B. Cartmell, of the University of Montreal, showed computations that the formula by which existence of "ether" has been ruled out may be in error. His calculations go back to the great experiment begun in 1884 by Michelson and Morley, taken by Einstein and most other scientists as proving there was no ether. These two measured the "ether drift."

Light travels as pulsations in ether, and the ether is moving through the ether. The earth's known motion is about 18 miles a second.

Michelson and Morley set up an interferometer, a cross, at whose centre a beam of light was split, so that half of it travelled at right angles to the other half out to end of the cross bars. These split beams were reflected back. At the point where they reunited they should show "fringes" of color, if there was a difference in their velocity in one direction as compared with the other.

There was a difference. But it was far less than expected. So much less that the experiment was adjudged as showing no other existed.

Eskimos Enjoy Game Exactly As Played On Gridiron

A game similar to American football, played by Eskimos in the light of the midnight sun, was described in an address at New Toronto by Rev. Dr. Archer Wallace, associate editor of the United Church Sunday School publications. The Northern aborigines gamboling about on a large sheet of ice, play their football in temperatures that often reach 75 degrees below zero, Dr. Wallace said. Wallace said the Eskimos got out on the ice, tackling, interfering and passing the ball like any team might do on gridirons in civilization.

War Produces New Hat

Dashing Headgear Makes Its First Appearance In Paris

Paris has a new hat inspired by the war in Ethiopia. A Bersaglieri hat trimmed with the traditional cock feathers, has made its appearance in the Rue Royale. It was worn by a tall, middle-aged woman, who carried the dashing headgear with great dignity. It is predicted that Bersaglieri hats will be as popular as they were in 1919 when a regiment of Bersaglieri was quartered in Paris.

Now Science Explains Why So Many People Past 40

Feel That They're Slipping Losing Their "Grip" on Things

Many people 'round 40 think they're "growing old." They feel tired a lot ... "weak." Have headaches, dizziness, stomach upsets.

Well, scientists say the cause of all this, in a great many cases, is simply an acid condition of the stomach. Nothing more.

All you have to do is to neutralize the excess stomach acidity.

When you have one of these acid stomach upsets, take Phillips' Milk of Magnesia after meals and before going to bed. That's all!

Try this. Soon you'll feel like another person! Take either the familiar liquid "PHILLIPS'" or the convenient new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets. Made in Canada.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM: Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at all drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

"For a long time I suffered badly from indigestion. I tried many remedies but got worse until I started Fruit-A-Tives. Then it was not long before I was entirely well and could eat anything without pain or after effects"—so says Mr. S. Sansone, Toronto, Ont.

Fruit-A-Tives are a famous doctor's prescription. They contain concentrated extracts of APPLES, ORANGES, FIGS, PRUNES and HERBS. That is why Fruit-A-Tives act naturally to bring all the organs of elimination to healthy, normal action ... why they bring, not temporary, but lasting relief.

Instant Relief From ITCHING

Are you tormented with the itching tortures of eruptions, eczema, scales, rashes or other skin afflictions? For quick and happy relief use pure, cooling, antiseptic, liquid D. D. D. Prescription. Its gentle oils soothe the irritated and inflamed skin, thus aiding nature itself to heal the disorder. No fuss—no muss. Clear, greaseless and stainless—dries up almost immediately. Stops the most intense itching instantly. A 35c trial bottle, at drug stores, will prove it—or money back. D. D. D. Prescription is made by the owners of ITALIAN BALM.

FLEMING'S FOLLY

— BY —

He started after. "Aw, Helen! It's only that I feel bad about you going busted on Fleming's fool idea. I'll come along and carry yore things. Say, I always had a weakness for yuh, and that's why I'm afraid about this crazy water scheme."

"I need salt," she mused, "and some canned goods. You may carry them if you'd really like to." She tripped into the odorous general store with Roper at her heels.

Down the street Sheriff Stephen fingered greyish stubble on his chin. "If Buzz Hamilton turns over a new leaf, it'll shore s'prise me. Yore taking a big responsibility, Link, gettin' him paroled to yuh."

"Maybe I am. But it's going to please Helen a lot. Always makes her feel bad to think of Buzz in prison."

"Huh! Tried to kill yuh, didn't he? Buzz was always wild an' scarcely ever without too many drinks under his belt."

"True. But perhaps six months behind stone walls have taught him a lesson. Anyhow," the rancher went on as he glanced about for Helen, "don't mention that he's due on the stage to-day. I want to make it a surprise. Gosh, if you were a girl and your brother was in prison, I reckon you'd feel good to have him paroled, eh?"

Ames grunted, unable to picture himself as a girl. "Buzz is no good even if he is her brother, even if Jim Hamilton was about as square a guy as this county ever saw. No, sir, Buzz is just nachrelly weak, always was an' always will be!"

Fleming grinned indulgently and, sighting his partner in the Silver Creek Dam project, started down the sidewalk toward her. Kilgo followed from the general store carrying the girl's purchases.

"Stow them in my saddlebag, will you please, Roper?" she asked over her shoulder. "Link and I have to see Otto Pieper."

Their eyes met and they smiled. Fleming's look, however, changed to sober concern as they approached the door of the Stockmen's Bank. "If we don't talk Otto into this loan it's going to be hard to keep the boys workin' on the dam. We're behind with their wages now, but I'm afraid to ask more'n eight hundred. Smile a few times extra, will you?" He sighed. "If Otto says no, we're busted—sky high and permanent!"

Damp and gloomy, the bank interior lay in silence but for the deliberate ticking of a clock on the wall. No one was in the place save Jimmy Farlane, the clerk, bent industriously over a huge ledger, and Pieper himself, seated at an oak desk in the rear. His sharp, weakened scrutiny lifted from a mass of papers as they approached, and his nod of welcome was curt and business-like.

"It's you two, eh?" Helen's heart throbbed faster. "Mr. Pieper," she announced, "we're here on a matter that means profits for your stockholders."

His small, deep-set eyes appraised her shrewdly. "I suppose that fool irrigation scheme o' yours is out of cash again. Well, I don't see how I can do anything about it."

Link tossed his sombrero before the banker and leaned forward, hands on the desk. "Otto, we'll let you off easy to-day," he grinned. "All we need is eight hundred dollars."

The other stiffened. "Do you think this is the United States mint? Eight hundred dollars?" he repeated. "On what security, young feller?"

Helen and Link exchanged looks. "Well," he answered, staring at the back of his hand, "we thought maybe second mortgage."

Pieper lifted an accusing forefinger. "You know very well I turned you down twice on a second mortgage on either your property or Helen's. Isn't worth enough. This bank will take no such risk while I'm president!"

"Don't get mad, Otto. I—"
"Let's waste no more time; I'm very busy to-day." And the wiry banker busied himself with papers on his desk.

Helen's heart sank. Fleming looked at her, then moistened his lips. "If you don't care about a second mortgage, maybe we could fix up some kind of note. I'd like to keep business at home, rather'n take it over to that new bank at Atlas."

Pieper sighed like a man resigned to wasting a half hour. "What's the money for? Throwin' away on that day-dream of yours? Eh?" His thin rasping tones carried through the silent bank, and Helen saw the clerk pause in his work to listen.

"I tell you," the man went on, drumming skinny fingers on his desk, "it's nothing but sheer foolishness. Trying to make hundred-dollar-an-acre land out of old sand that isn't worth fifty cents! I've warned you, Fleming, time and again. You too, Helen Hamilton, and if your father was here he'd turn you over his knee. He'd paddle you where it'd have the worst effect. Mighty good thing, too!"

Blushing, she shifted uncomfortably at knowledge that Link was grinning.

"How about the eight hundred?" "I can't tie up money in frozen assets!"

"Why, eight hundred's a trifle, and you know it. Otto," he added

School Absences Due to Colds Cut Almost One-Half

Famous Colds-Control Plan
Tested in Three Series of Clinics Among 5,118
School Children

FURTHER PROVED IN HOME USE

School absences due to colds have been reduced nearly one-half (40.20%) by following Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. This is shown in records of clinics among 5,118 school children.

Mothers and teachers alike welcome Vicks Plan as a practical guide to fewer and shorter colds. This commonsense, medically sound Plan is based on three simple steps:

1. To Help Build Resistance to Colds Live normally—avoid excesses. Eat simple food and keep elimination regular. Drink plenty of water. Take some exercise daily—outdoors preferably. Get plenty of rest and sleep.

2. To Help Prevent Many Colds At the first warning nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze, use Vicks Va-tro-nol—just a few drops up each nostril. Va-tro-nol is especially designed for the nose and upper throat—where most colds start. Used in time, Va-tro-nol helps to prevent many colds—and to throw off head colds in the early stages.

3. To Help End a Cold Sooner If a cold has developed, or strikes without warning, rub throat and chest at bedtime with Vicks VapoRub. VapoRub acts two ways at once: (1) By stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster; (2) By inhalation of its penetrating medicated vapors, direct to inflamed passages. Through the night, this combined vapor-poultice action loosens phlegm, soothes irritation, helps break congestion.

What Vicks Plan can do for others has been indicated not only in clinics, but also in the further proof of everyday home use by thousands. What it can do for you and your family can be proved only by trying it. Directions for following the Plan come in each package of Vicks Va-tro-nol and Vicks VapoRub.

persuasively, "we might be here asking twice as much, but we decided to get along somehow. Trouble is, the heavy rains lately force us to work faster, hire more men to get the dam completed."

"But, it's going to be wonderful!" he hurried on as the other parted his lips to speak. "We'll raise four crops of alfalfa a year, think of it! Anything'll grow there, Otto—small grains too!"

Little Helps For This Week

The Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thy works, and in all that thou puttest thy hand to do. Deut. 15:10.

My place of lowly service too,
Beneath Thy sheltering wings I see;
For all the work I have to do
Is done through sheltering rest in Thee.

I think I find most help in trying to look on all interruptions and hindrances to work that one has planned out for oneself as discipline trials sent by God to help us against getting selfish over our work. Then one could feel that perhaps one's true work, work for God, consists in doing some trifling thing that has been thrown into the day. It is not waste of time as we are apt to think, but it is the most important work of the day, the part one can best offer to God. After such a hindrance do not rush after the planned work, trust that the time to finish it will be given sometime, and keep a quiet heart about it.—A. Keary.

Takes Money To Eat

Exchange Regulations In Russia
Boost Price Of Food

New Soviet exchange regulations have gone into effect which indicate that the rush of bright young things to Moscow next summer may be somewhat abated; that is, if the B.Y.T.'s still remember that even in Russia it takes money to eat.

Under the new rules, here are some price equivalents at the Intourist restaurant in Moscow as reported by the New York Herald Tribune: Smoked salmon (slice)... $1.40
Boiled ham (with salad)... 2.40
Vegetable salad 1.60
Swiss cheese (one slice)... 1.10

In grocery stores white bread will sell at 60 cents a loaf. Some of the grand dukes who have been running Russian restaurants in this country must have sneaked back home with their price lists.—New York Post.

Weigh Cosmic Rays

Photographic Scales Show Them Less Massive Than Supposed

A photographic scale which weighs cosmic rays was described to the American Physical Society at New York by Dr. W. F. G. Swann, director of the Bartol Institute, Philadelphia.

The scales showed the weights of the rays at the earth's surface. Those which pierce the human body at the rate of dozens a minute, are far less massive than has been supposed.

The weighing process contradicts the evidence set up by Dr. Arthur H. Compton of the University of Chicago, that most of the rays at sea level are protons. The scales show that instead they are nearly all electrons, less than 10 per cent. being protons.

Anti-Aircraft Guns

Swedish Invention Can Deliver Bullets At Rate Of Two In A Second

Bofors, Sweden's great munitions plant, has delivered to the Swedish navy a new-designed anti-aircraft gun, capable of maintaining uninterrupted fire, the newspaper Svenska Dagbladet declared.

The new Bofors gun has a capacity of 120 rounds per minute and can be fired while the ammunition belt is being changed, the newspaper said.

The newspaper also said the Bofors' new machine-gun can fire 130 bullets per minute.

From Your Doctor
if the "Pain" Remedy
You Take Is Safe.

Don't Entrust Your

Well-Being to Unknown
Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches; or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with "Aspirin."

We say this because, before the discovery of "Aspirin," most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of "Aspirin" largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken "Aspirin" year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: "Aspirin" is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains... and safe for the average person to take regularly.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

A Long-Lived Race

Inhabitants Of Eastern Shores Of Black Sea Live To Great Age

The government of Abkhazkan, a Soviet republic on the eastern shores of the Black sea, has started an investigation to find out why many of its citizen reportedly live to be more than 100 years old. The republic of Abkhazkan is a small mountainous territory whose population is made up largely of farmers and sheep raisers. One of its citizens, Adleba Mazhagva, was reported to have reached 150 years of age in possession of good health, good memory and excellent sight.

Reduced Fares for Eastertide

Bargain fare excursions from the prairie provinces to the Pacific coast, good from April 3 to 11, taking in the Easter weekend, were announced by J. B. Parker, secretary of the Canadian Passenger Association, on behalf of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways.

Fares for this spring trip westward will be a cent-a-mile in coaches, 1 1/4 cents in tourist cars and 1 1/2 cents standard from Port Arthur to British Columbia points, with return limit of 21 days in addition to the date of sale.

Similar fares are offered from British Columbia to destinations in the prairie provinces east to Port Arthur.

NOTICE

The regulations of the Public Health Act provide that whenever a householder ascertains, or has reason to suspect, that a person within his or her family or household is infected with any of the notifiable diseases, he or she shall, within twelve hours, give notice in writing to the Local Board of Health. Where a doctor is called he will give the required notification, and it is urged in every case the family physician be called, which will avoid the householder going to the trouble of giving the required notification.

A penalty for infraction of the above regulation is provided by the Public Health Act, and the Local Board of Health has decided, in the interests of public health, that the regulation must be strictly adhered to.

Among the notifiable diseases are the following: Smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, infantile paralysis, typhoid, chickenpox, measles, German measles, mumps, Spanish or Epidemic influenza, whooping cough, tuberculosis, erysipelas, etc.
